

The Women's Trade Union League (WTUL) Potteries Fund Register recorded the names, addresses and medical details of workers suffering from the effects of lead poisoning in the Staffordshire area c.1899. This list provides details for 217 of the 328 cases that were visited by a worker appointed by the WTUL. Names are arranged alphabetically and in the case of name changes, under the name they appear in the index. Former addresses are shown in brackets. Entries in bold relate to those not listed in the original index but which have a record entry. Notes in italics relate to other volumes of the register, the location of which are unknown.

Case 49 is empty.
